The Rebel Invasion of Kentucky!

Breckinridge in Command!

We have received no later information from Danville, or from that vicinity as to the movements of the rebels than that furnished in our morning paper. The advices we have are by no means satisfactory as to the force of the enemy, nor are they conclusive as to his immediate designs.

It is stated upon good authority that John C. Breckinridge has command of the invading forces. Since his arrival in the State it is known that he has issued a proclamation to the people of Kentucky, copies of which had been received at Danville on Tuesday. The arch traitor sets forth in his proclamation that he has been anthorized by Hawes, the Provisional Governor of the State, to possess and hold Kentucky, as a member of the Confederate States, declaring among other things his intention of enforcing the conscription. We have learned from other sources also, that the provisions of that act are being rigidly enforced in those regions through which the rebel army is passing, and that numbers of loyal men have thus been already pressed into the rebel service. We learn by telegraph from Frankfort that the residents of the State capital were in a stan of high excitement this morning in anenemy, and it is said that the accommodation train, which leaves that city for Louisville at an early hour, was detained by Gov. Robinson until the designs of the enemy could be ascertained. The train was permitted to depart for this city at ten o'clock, but under what circumstances we were not informed The train was due here at half past one o'clock but had not arrived when the Bulletin went

There is a report from Lebanon, Marion county, that a rebel force appeared in that vicinity on Tuesday, but its future move ments are a matter of uncertainty.

THE MONITORS AT FORT MCALLISTER .- The New York World regards the withdrawal of the Monitors from Ogeechee as a premonition of their failure against the works at Charleston or Savannah. Dissenting from this opinion the Philadelphia Inquirer thinks it was quite well understood that the Montauk and her consorts failed in the attack on Fort Mc-Allister because they were kept more than a mile away from that work by rows of piles driven deep into the bottom of the river, which entirely closed it up from bank to bank. The engagement there was not in any sense a test | in the New York Times, are interesting: of the relative strength of Monitors against fortified works. Although it may be true enough that Fort McAllister was very little damaged by the long range fire of the Montauk, it is equally true that our gallant little iron-clad was herself uninjured. The simple facts of the case were, that the rebel cruiser Nashville having sought refuge up the Ogeechee, the rebels closed up that river with numerous ranges of piles, so that an attacking force from our side could not aparts.

The reconnoissance extended to Jackson-ville, Onslow county, and intormation of a valuable nature was obtained. The expeditive process of the same way.

To make their work as certain as possible (as they always do), they fortified a point to protect their privateer and the piling both. The pile blockade kept our Monitors off so far that they could not operate to advantage on either the fort or the Nashvateer, seeing the chances of her capture growing greater and greater day by day, attempted to get to sea, when she was promptly destroyed by the Montauk. After that Fort McAllister became of very little account, and the Monitors were withdrawn, leaving the question of relative strength unsettled. Why anything in such state of facts argues a probability of failure against Charleston, it is hard to perceive. The conditions are all different. There will doubtless be an attempt to block up the channel between Forts Sumpter and Moultrie, but that cannot be done by an impassable barrier of piles, nor, if done in any manner, will it be so done as to

We have already noticed the efforts made in England to provide a navy for our rebel States, and we are glad to see that our Government has under consideration measures of retaliation. The New York World says definite information has been received at Washington that five additional pirate steamers are now fitting out in British ports, one of which will be iron-clad with plates of four and a half inches in thickness. The Government has been assured that if these issue forth from the British ports American shipping cannot keep the high seas, in competition with British shipping, as the insurance would not be less than twenty per cent. And it is understood that the committee on the subject appointed by the Chamber of Commerce of New York have made most urgent representations to the President of the necessity of taking some measure more effectually to protect American shipping, if not from the depredations of the pirates, at least from the ruinous competition of British shipping, taking advantage of the violation of national law by the British government in permitting these pirates to be fitted out and sail from British ports. It is understood, and indeed semiofficially announced, that the course of the Government will probably be to call an extra session of Congress immediately on the departure of the next pirate from a British port and recommend that vessels under the British flag shall either be interdicted entirely from loading in American ports or subjected to a tonnage duty of about three dollars per ton. Either course would be similar to the regulations existing in several British colonial ports, as against foreign flags, but the advantages of the latter in the matter of revenue will probably lead to its adoption. Under it the Cunard steamers will be compelled to pay from seven to twelve thousand dollars each time they enter our ports, and thus yield an enormous revenue, which may be appropriated to the reimbursement of parties losing their property from the depredations of the pirates.

THE CITY CONVENTION .- In response to the call for a convention of the Union Democracy of the city for the nomination of a candidate for the office of Mayor at the ensuing April election, the delegates appointed by the voters of the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Wards, assembled at the Courthouse at 11 o'clock this morning.

The meeting was organized by calling Mr. J. L. Danforth to the chair, and appointing

Mr. Wm. Drysdale secretary. A resolution was then offered, which was eassed by a unanimous vote, adjourning the convention until three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, calling upon the wards which were not represented in the meeting to appoint delegates to attend the nominating convention on Saturday.

The convention then adjourned.

There was a large attendance of visitors upon the paper-reading exercises at the Louisville Female High School yesterday, and the contributions from the young ladies reflected very high credit upon the young ladies whose literary productions were read for the amusement and instruction of the audi-

We referred some time since to a report nade by some rebel surgeons to the Confederate authorities at Richmond to the effect that the wounded rebels, after the battle of Stone iver, who fell into our hands, were inhu-

Finley, Hospital Surgeon in charge of the field, writes to us that there were about thirty rebel wounded under his care, and that they were as well reated as our own wounded. One of hese rebel surgeons, named Donelson, called at the Frame House Hospital, five miles from Murfreesboro, and Dr. Finley says his manner towards his own wounded was anything but kind. He told several that they could not live ten days unless their legs were imputated, and that he would take them to Murfreesboro the next day and cut off their imbs. After he left, the poor fellows begged

Dr. F. not to allow them to be taken away, stating that they had never been half so kindly treated in their own hospitals as in ours, and that their surgeons were always rough and unfeeling towards he sick and wounded. Happily for them, Surgeon Donelson did not get an order to take hem away, and they have all recovered, with one exception. This surgeon spent about half an hour at our hospital, calling for and drinkng three glasses of whisky in the time, and nence it is not remarkable that any report he might make should be a little inflated.

THE REBEL DEMONSTRATION AGAINST NEW-BERN.-We have already published brief accounts of the attack made on Newbern, N. C. The following details, however, which we find On the 6th inst., Gen. Henry Prince, with ie infantry force under Gen. Prince. 25th Massachusetts Volunteers, with two companies of the 3d New York Cavalry, started on an expedition to proceed on the road as far as the Kinston and Trenton forks. They survers, and drove our pickets in over Deep Gally. Colonel Lewis, commanding the 3d New York cavalry, was immediately thrown out, with Belger's battery, to hold the enemy in check, which he successfully accomplished, when Gen. Palmer came up with a portion of his command, and the enemy fell back.

On the morning of the 14th a large force of the enemy, with eight pieces of artillery, appeared in front of Fort Anderson, on the northicide of the Neuse, and commenced its bombardment. Fort Anderson is an unfinished earthwork, without any cannon then mounted. The enemy sent in, by flag of truce, a summons to surrender, to which Col. Anderson, sommanding the garrison with the cold wit keep our "Monitors" a mile off. These forebodings of failure at Charleston, because of York Volunteers, replied that it would be impossible for him to entertain the proposition, and immediately sent word to Gen. Foster, at Northern of the force and described for the sent and result of the expedition.

During our three days' visit at Mrs. Wording of the conduct and result of the expedition. the withdrawal from the Ogeechee, therefore, seem to be without any reasonable basis. They needlessly discourage the gallant officers and men of our navy on the eve of a very important enterprise, and hence we fail to see either the logic, the policy, or the patriotism

THURSDAY MARCH 26, 1863.

The Hon. John W. Menzies announce nimself a candidate for re-election to Congres from his District. His consistent course, hi patriotic firmness, and his uncompromisin determination to carry on the war until the rebellion is crushed out, give him high claims upon the confidence of his loyal constituents Mr. Menzies has shown himself a true patriot a clear sighted statesman, and a wise and effi cient Representative. His course in Congress is one of which he has a right to be proud and of which his constituents should be proud.

MAJOR-GENERAL BURNSIDE .- This distinguished officer has assumed command of the Department of the Ohio, with his headquarter. at Cincinnati, and we most sincerely hope that he will be left to control it after his own plans, and not be hampered by instructions rom the War Department. He has been called to his new trust at a critical period, and all his military skill will at once be brought into over us, and placed pretended Senators and requisition. We wrote of him yesterday that the Union army does not contain a true gentleman, a more chivalric soldier, or a more energetic officer, to which we may add that his name has been unmixed with any of the dissensions in the army, that he has deported himself with modesty and self-sacrifice, that he aspires to no political honors, that he has no ambition beyond the desire of seeing the nation restored to its once proud, commanding, and peace ful position, and that he will prosecute the war to crush the rebellion by every agency at hi command within the strict limits of the Con- We should say to them, also, that, under these stitution. We congratulate Kentucky upon the assurance of efficient defence which his supervision of her interest brings, and w warn the rebels and their sympathizers that they will find in him an unshrinking patriot, who will root out the seeds of disloyalty wherever found, and compel respect to our country's flag and submission to its laws.

THE SOUTHERN MONARCHY .- Our corre pondent "Anti-Noble" gives another link in the chain of evidence which convicts the rebel leaders of a design to crush out liberty in the Confederacy and erect therein a despoti government. We have had this scheme exposed in some of the Southern papers, but the present information is more direct and significant than any we have before seen, for i shows that an actual overture for recognition from France has been made by the leading politicians of the Confederacy, while Toom and Wise, two of the most unprincipled of the rebel Generals, seem to be the only military officers who were let into the secret. The plo ontemplates the establishment of a nobility in the South, and the compulsory removal of all who will not agree to the measure, by the agency of the army before it is disbanded. The letter which was sent to the Court of France with this proposal makes the stinct admission that the leaders of the South had forced this war and established the present Confederacy in opposition to a majority of every State. We commend the letter to the earnest attention of those who are awaiting with anxiety the period when Kentucky will be recognized as a member of the Confederate States, and yearning for "the good time coming" that will enlarge their liberty and bestow on them more franchises than they enjoy under "the old Union."

We have been asked what objection we have to the platform of the so-called Union Convention lately held. Well, the main and insurmountable objection is, that, after reading it, we have no information about our real condition and the programme upon which the war is now conducted by those in power.

The resolutions condemn things in the abstract, but what all these things together mean, and the bearing they have upon the condition of the country, does not appear.

Low. Democrat.

In a word, our neighbor chiefly objects to the platform because it is a protest instead of a disquisition. Such is a fair construction of the Northern Democracy are fighting face to what he says. This is certainly a very remarkable "objection" for a "main and insurmountable" one. Our neighbor wrote a disquisition as a platform, but the Union majority of the General Assembly, preferring a protest, adopted a protest, rejecting our neighbor's disquisition; and the Union State Convention, cherishing a like preference, re-adopted the protest of the General Assembly. This protest, thus would be about as true a specimen of his class adopted and re-adopted, constitutes the platform of the Union party of Kentucky. Under denounce the abolitionists. Each would speed these circumstances, our neighbor, having ly find his true level, the latter in the bosom of abandoned meanwhile both the Union party and its platform, and being asked not unnaturally what objection he has to the plat- crat, like the true Union man of Kentucky. form, frankly answers in effect that his "main litionists and the abolitionists as well as the and insurmountable objection" is that the platform is a protest instead of a disquisition! The platform, our neighbor admits, condemns denunciation of the one shall not serve the unconstitutional acts of Congress and the the other. And all Northern Democrats and usurpations of the Executive, but it does not condemn them in his way; it condemns them in the form of a protest, whereas he wants them condemned in the form of a disquisition.

We shall not dispute with our neighbor concerning his preference as between a disquisition and a protest, but, as he appears to be receiving interrogatories at present, we beg respectfully to ask him whether the mere difference between the two is really such a difference as to warrant him at this most critical uncture in turning his energies and his influence against the harmony of the loyal men of Kentucky? Is this indeed a time, with the And surely a truer hero has not fallen on any tramp of the insolent invader upon our soil field. We expect many use this phrase without knowing its meaning; it is a sailor's term and implies the end of the cable which is on ship-board, as opposed to that which holds the anchor. It is thick and fast to his adored memory, but the equivalent therefore to "the end of the rope," time is coming, and is not distant, when this a very ticklish expression when used against thought of bitterness will be mellowed into a

THE FIRST TREASON CASE—A Verdict of Guilty Found .- Thomas C. Schachlett, of Meade county, indicted for treason in the United States Circuit Court, has been on trial in this city since Friday last, and yesterday a verdict of guilty was rendered against him. ied before the Hon. Blan Ballard, the prosecution conducted by the lately appointed District Attorney Thos. E. Bramlette, and the prisoner defended by Wm F. Bullitt and Isaac D. Stone, Esqs. This Schachlett was a desperado and cutthroat, who went off in 1861, when Buckner attempt ed to betray the State, was associated with Forrest's command, we think, and came back with Bragg's invading army last fall. He left that body at Red Mills, on the Rolling Fork, and went to Meade county, where he arrested the Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff, and Assessor by the order of Bragg, as he said, and succeeded in taking two away as prisoners to the rebe camp. He afterwards killed Mr. Pearman the postmaster at Big Spring, under circum stances of unusual and cold-blooded atrocity as he was endeavoring to escape, shooting hin down despite the tearful prayers and entreaties of his wife and family. The home guards of Meade then got upon his track and succeeded in arresting him, and, after indictment and trial, upon which he was defended with con summate skill, he has been found guilty treason. This is the first indictment and th first conviction since the rebellion broke out. and we trust that no mistaken clemency wil prevent him from being the first to expiate his awful crimes on the gallows.

Capt. Mat. Carey, who has been in the service of the rebels for a year or more, has been doing quite a brisk business in Campbell county, Ky., lately, providing recruits for the Confederate army. The Cincinnati Commercial says he piloted about forty to Humphrey Marshall's camp, in Eastern Kentucky, three or four weeks ago, and returned last week to renew his business of enlisting. After getting a dozen or fifteen recruits, he started with them through Bracken county. Capt. Rice, of the There is no doubt that the eastern portion of Bracken Home Guards, hearing of their movements, started on Monday last, with eight of his men, in pursuit. Overtaking the rebels near the town of Washington, he demanded their at ten o'clock yesterday morning, brought a surrender. Carey was considerably nonplussed by the sudden turn events had taken, and see number of refugees from the interior of the State, all of whom have their peculiar versions ing no mode of escape, delivered up his sword o Capt. Rice, and surrendered his entire party, among whom were George Richardson, A. Morin, and George Washington, of Newport, and James Spillman, of Alexandria. The prisoners were taken across the country to Falmouth, on the Kentucky Central Railroad, and thence to Lexington.

muzzle-loaders, second single shot breech-loaders, or those which have to be raised to, and lowered from, the shoulder to be reloaded at every discharge. This latter is a numerous class, of which "Burnside's Rifle" may be taken as a specimen for illustration. The third class are the repeating breech-loaders, or magazine cuns, which can be placed at the shoul-sales Riog.

The muzzle loading gun requires sixty seconds to load and fire; Burnside's can be loaded and fired fifteen times a minute, or an average of four seconds to every shot. The Henry rifle can be loaded and fired thirty times per minute or an average of two seconds for mach iffe can be loaded and fred thirty thies per minute, or an average of two seconds for each shot.
